BIRD SPECIES OF MOUNT JUMBO—Draft Copy

Five Valleys Audubon Society

Relative abundance in suitable habitat by season:
c—Common, usually found on every visit in proper habitat u—Uncommon, usually present in low numbers but may be missed o—Occasional, seen only a few times during the season, not present in all suitable habitat
r—Rare, one to low numbers occur but not every year

Status:
B—Direct evidence of breeding b—Indirect evidence of breeding t—No evidence of breeding

Season of occurrence:
W—mid-November to mid-February Sp—mid-February to mid-May Su—mid-May to mid-August
F—mid-August to mid-November

Habitat: f—Forest s—shrub patches and woody draws g—Grassland
p—Ephemeral pond in saddle
m—Migrating or traveling over the area

The listed species have been observed on or along the fringe of Mount Jumbo. In addition, observed accidental or unexpected migrants include Connecticut Warbler, American Coot and Sora. Historically (past 50 to 100 years) Sharptail Grouse, Short-eared Owl and Green-tailed Towhee probably occurred as occasional visitors. A number of other species probably occur now as rare migrants or visitors, which may be confirmed by future observations.
